

MEASURED BUILDING SURVEY CASE STUDY

A Barn Conversion

Problem: Our clients were in the process of purchasing this stunning barn conversion and outbuildings, set in 8 acres of land. They were planning works to the building and landscaping of the grounds. The site has hugely varying levels and numerous outbuildings so it was important to their architect and landscape designer to have accurate information.

Solution: LDS carried out an extensive survey of the entire property, starting with a topographic survey followed by full elevations and floorplans. This is the second property we have surveyed for this client and hope to go back once the work is completed to survey the alterations that have taken place.
